Magenta

A cluster of vibrant pink peonies with multiple layers of petals, some in full bloom and some as buds, set against a white background.

MEDIUM

*Small bottle of Refined Linseed Oil
+ Small container of Solvent*

You will need medium to thin your oil paints.

My preference is a half and half mix that combines one part REFINED LINSEED OIL and one part SOLVENT.

(See video in Dreama's Tips section located on the nav bar of the DreamLovePaint.com website.)

Solvent choices include Gamsol by Gamblin, Turpenoid by Weber, or Zest-it.

You only need one of the solvents to mix with your refined linseed oil.

Please Note:

Zest-it Oil Paint Dilutant/Cleaner is the one I use. It is both non-toxic and safe for flying. Unfortunately it is not yet available in the US and must be ordered online from the UK. Rosemary and Co (RosemaryandCo.com) carries the Zest-it Oil Paint Dilutant/Cleaner Product line.

KEMPER WIPE OUT TOOL

OIL BRUSH

Winsor and Newton Monarch Flat, Size 14
OR Eclipse Short Flat, Size 7 (Available at RosemaryandCo.com)

PAINTING SURFACES

The smooth surface of Ampersand Museum Series Gessobord is my preferred choice for painting surface. The sizes used in the painting videos on Dream.Love. Paint are:

(1) 12" x 12" (1) 8" x 8" (2) 9" x 12" (1) 6" x 6"
(1) Extra panel or canvas in size of your choice

Note: Canvas (either stretched or on panels) works fine too---it just behaves a bit differently due to the texture difference between canvas and gessobord.
